GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

There were some more exciting features in the pedestrian contest yesterday at the Central rink. Early in the morning Sammy Day, who had heroically held on to first place for about 12 hours, became sick and was forced to rest two or three hours. He vomited considerably and he was disposed to retire from the contest. His attendants, however, nursed him with great success and got him refixed shortly after dinner, Sammy reappeared and trudged along, but nearly 20 miles behind the leader.

When Day made the temporary collapse Hegelman went to the front, and Noremac, the plucky little Scotchman, began to earnestly spire for the lead. He gradually gained on Hegelman, and about noon was within a few aps of him. Then began one of the most in tense struggles that has been seen on a pedes trian track. More than a dozen times Nore-mac tried to shake his speedy and graceful young rival off, but the latter stuck to the lit-tle man like a shadow. Noremac went round and round the track at top speed, but Hegel-man was there. He was 7 laps in front, and he was determined to maintain that lead as long as possible. The band would first play a tch air and then "Yankee" Doodle. This cheered the contestants on, and they sprinted round and round amid the deafening yells of the crowd. Hegelman surprised the talent by the way he stuck to his task.

NOREMAC TO THE FRONT. Finally, about 2 o'clock, nature could hold out no more, and Peter was forced to retire for 15 or 20 minutes. Noremac then went to the front, and after going a lap further than Hegelman he also retired. Noremac's attendant was on guard, and as soon as Hegelman reappeared Noremac was brought out. The struggle was resumed, much to the delight of the vast audience. Noremac looks like a winner.

Little Connors complained of sore legs, but he kept close to the leaders, and he is confident of being near the front at the finish. Messier, the Colorado representative, moved along extremely well, and a great many people think he will be among the first three. During the afternoon he had a vomiting spell, but he soon recovered. Adams probably was going better than anybody on the track after supper time. Golden looked better than he did on Tuesday and his friends think he will get over the limit. Cartwright was complaining of a weak leg last evening, but he thinks there is nothing leg last evening, but he thinks there is nothing seriously wrong.

So far one of the surprises is the performance of Yokum, the Woods' Run stock yard representative. This is his first race, and last evening he was moying along like a veteran. He has a big and enthusiastic following. He may not reach the 476 mark this time, but undoubtedly he will develop into a good six-day man if rightly handled. Old man Taylor covered 200 miles about $300, amid the wildest enthusiasm. Sometody presented him with a ered 200 miles about 8:30, amid the wildest enthusiasm. Somebody presented him with a monster pie specially prepared for him. The old man carried it round the track in triumphant glee. Andy Seibert looked badly broken up. He has a very bad knee and ankle.

As each man reached the 250-mile mark he received $10. It really is remarkable to find so many over that mark on a 16-lap track. They are not only over that mark but they look like staying to the end. The result is still in doubt us any man in the race is liable to be overtaken intense, and it is likely to continue so. About

NECK AND NECK. As midnight approached Hegelman left the track, and after taking a lead of four laps Novemac also retired. At 12 o'clock Cartwright, mac also retired. At 12 o'clock Cartwright, Horan, Brown and Yockum were the only contestants on the track. Cartwright gave an exhibition of first-class running, and was loudly cheered. Little Horan plodded on gamely, and eatned well-merited applause. Cartwright passed Messier, who had retired shortly after 8 o'clock. Hrs attendants foolishly allowed him to sleen three hours, and he gave these "this care."

A few minutes before 1 o'clock Compors and egglman reappeared, and the latter once ore took the lead. He was a mile in front fore Noremac got down to work again, minors had crept up to within two lies of the leaders, and was going ell. Noremac and Hegelman resumed their ruggie, however, much to the delight of cotators. All the contestants were showing a effects of the severe race. At 120 a describe race of two miles took place between oremac and Coppors. The Scotchman made of Britisher quit after going the second mile sher quit after going the second mile minutes. INFECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. LOUISVILLE, April 10. - "Hustling Horace" Phillips stood by and sweat blood this afternoon to see his aggregation so unmercifully pounded by the rejuvenated Louisville nine, at whom he sneered so confidently when he started out on the present trip. The Louisville "Blue Jays," as they have been denominated on account of their blue uniforms, proved the value of their blood by remarkable team and individual playing that made the contest full of thrilling interest from beginning to end. Captain Esterbase or at the bat, and talked to his men with such cheering enthusiasm that he made them as confident as he appeared, and helped them put up an almost errorless game.

The Smoky City boys worked hard, but not with their usual enthusiasm and dash, and Pitcher Morris was too wild to help as he should have done, while Ewing pitched magnificently for Louisville. Four errors show up on the Pittsburg side of the score, but three of the six runs Louisville got were earned. The home club scored once in the second inning. Then Coleman, who had made a fine hit when he went to bat in the second, started the run getting for his side in the third inning by taking his base on balls after "King" Dunlay had gone out on a fly to Raymond. Maul made a beautiful hit to left, and both he and Cole-man scored on Kuehne's slashing three-bagger. It looked like as if the Smoky Citys had found the ball, but Allen, who went to bat next repeated his striking out performance of the previous inning and Weaver neatly captured Morris' long fly to center, retiring the side. In the fifth inning the Louisvilles made side. In the fifth inning the Louisvilles made two more runs. Ewing got his base on Allen's error in handling a grounder. Tomney made a hit to right. Browning was put out at first, but Wolf got his base on balls and then Miller let a ball pass and Tomney and Ewing reached home. The side was retired on Esterbrook's short fly. In the sixth Weaver made a three-bagger and came home on Shannon's sacrifice hit. In the seventh Ewing started with a hit to right and Browning got his base on a wild pitch, coming home on Wolf's two-bagger and Esterbrook's fly.

The Alleghenies scored once on their side.

Esterbrook's fly.

The Alleghenies scored once on their side in this inning by a home run hit of Miller, who drove the ball against the left field fence. Morris and Suncay had been thrown out at first. Beckley retired the side by striking out. Shannon scored for Louisville in the eighth, and almost a superhuman play on the part of Sunday was all that prevented Wolf from making a home run in the ninth. He made a tremendous drive over Sunday's head and at least 100 feet beyond where the center fielder was. dous drive over Sunday's head and at least 100 feet beyond where the center fielder was. Sunday ran backward with his eyes fixed upon the ball, and by a desperate effort caucht it with his hands at the back of his head. The force of the ball knocked him down and rolled him over twice, but he clong to the sphere and beat a great batter out of a run. The play was loudly applauded. Maul did splenaid work in left field for the visitors, having six put outs. On the Louisville side the features were Esterbrook's fine piaying at first and Wolf's heavy batting. Twice Esterbrook caught balls on the bound which Toinney had thrown too short and put out Sanday before that sprinter could reach first. The weather was fine and attendance about 1,890. In the absence of an umpire Jack Kerins officiated to the satisfaction of all. The score:

as follows last evening:
"I am going to Kansas City to-morrow to see what the officials of that club there are going to do. I want $2,350 for the season, and I am offered $1,800. My case is this: When I was purchased from Pittsburg, Manager Dave Rowe wirsd me to the effect that I would get $2,000 for the season and $550 advance money
outside my salary. In a subsequent telegram Rowe informed me that I would receive the same payment this year. A few weeks ago,
when I forwarded the telegram to Manager
Watkins, the President of the club,
wrote me to the effect that a manager had no right to make any such terms with me. The President went on to say that I could get no more than $1,800, and that if I did not want to play for that amount I could try and negotiate
for the surchase of my release. I wrote back, saying that it was not my business to negotiate
for the sale of releases, and that I meant to have the $2,350 bargained for. My attorney advised me to give the club until April I2 to see what the officials will do. I am going on then to find out what conclusion they have arrived at. If they still refuse to carry out their agreement with me then I must appeal to law. My agreement with the club is bona fide, and I think the court will enforce it."

BALTIMORE, April 10.—About 5,000 people saw to-day's game between the Chicagos and All-Americas. The two clubs proceeded to the grounds in carriages, headed by a band of music, and followed by a crowd of baseball cranks who cheered them along the route.

The game was interesting throughout, the field work of the Chicagos especially being much enjoyed. It was sharp and clean, and the various good plays of the visitors evoked bearty enthusiasm. hearty enthusiasm.

He aly was hit harder than Baldwin, but he play ed a much steadier game, and hadn't it been for the excellent support the Chicago pitcher received the result might have been different. Auson was a little off in his catching, while Earle, barring a wild throw, played an almost perfect game. Shindle, of the Battimores, played short for All-America, Wardnot turning up, To-night both teams visited Ford's theater by special invitation. The score:

Ward's Domestic Troubles.

It is now stated that the cause of Johnny Ward's sudden return to this country from England was entirely domestic. His wife had resolved to resume theatrical life, and he obpessoved to resume theatrical life, and he objected. Matters became so serious that they talked of a separation. Finally Mrs. Ward, who had almost all her company engaged, cancelled all engagements, and she and Mr. Ward will live together. Ward, as a compromise, so it is stated, will remain with the New Yorks, so as to spend as much of his time at home as possible.

THE LADY'S BROKER PULLED.

It is Claimed That He Assisted Her to Appropriate $30,000. ELMIRA, N. Y., April 10 .- The deten tion of Ella G. White, the Elmira music teacher who obtained between $20,000 and $30,000 from Elmira parties on various representations and lost the money in speculation, has resulted in the arrest of Nelson B Wheeler, bucket shop proprietor, through whom Miss White conducted her dealings. Wheeler last evening was twice arrested on warrants charging him with forgery in the second degree. He pleaded not guilty and his wife furnished bond for bail. his wife furnished bond for ball.

Jacob Schwartz, counsel for Wheeler, says it is preposterous to charge Mr. Wheeler with forgery, as he had nothing to do with Miss White's transactions beyond investing the money she put into his hands in a perfectly legitumate business. He said it could be clearly shown that Wheeler does not operate a bucket shop.

ANOTHER FIGHT SETTLED.

Lacey, of Michigan, is to be Controller the Currency.

PRPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. 1 WASHINGTON, April 10 .- It is reported to-night that the long fight over the Controllership of the Currency has been decided by the President, and that ex-Representative Lacey, of Michigan, will get the ap pointment. John Sherman and other Ohio men have made a great effort in behalf of Richard C. Parsons, former Marshal of the Supreme Court, and the latter's friends are still hopeful that their man will win, but the ugly spots in Parsons' record have been laid before the President, and it is hardly possible that they can have been ignored.

Notwithstanding Lacey's excellent prospects, the Michigan men here think that Colonel H. M. Duffield, of that State, will be Salvited Control The search of the searc be Solicitor General. They say this appoint-ment will be made as a personal recognition of General Russel A. Alger.

TRAIN ROBBERS CAPTURED.

A Fierce Fight After a Chase of 0 ver 300

SALT LAKE, April 10 .- Four train robbers were brought here to-day in charge of four officers from Arizona, having been captured in Southern Utah heavily armed. The officers had a chase of 300 miles over rivers, mountains and plains, ending in a pitched battle. They forced the robbers to abandon their horses and scatter in the brush, where it took two days' search to secure them. The party left for Denver this afternoon after six hours' rest in this city.
